DEDICATION

MR. HARRY L. WALEN
Principal

□ When the class of 1964 arrived at Needham High School, our new principal, Mr. Harry Walen, arrived with us. Since our simultaneous introduction to the Hill, Mr. Walen has participated in class activities with a spirit that has made him a friend as well as an advisor. He has been seen at dances, football games, play rehearsals, and looking in on classes. Still he has found time to confer with each senior about plans after graduation; and seniors will remember the personal interest he has taken in each student, not only during these conferences but throughout our three years at the high school. His enthusiasm and his deep feeling for the school have added much to our high school experience, as we know it has done for the two classes ahead of us and will do for classes to follow. It is with appreciation and gratitude that we dedicate our Advocate to Mr. Walen ■

CLASS OF 1964

□ The Class of 1964 leaves Needham High School with the memories of the highlights of our three years. Especially, we recall our class dances, the Pep Week won by the Seniors, our class picnics, and the events in which we participated. Most prominent in our minds will be the activities of this year: the Senior Breakfast, the Senior Banquet, our prom, and the class play, You Can't Take It With You. We have memories to forget also—term papers, fluency exercises, standardized tests, and the rush for Locke at 7:15 A.M.

We wish to thank the officers of our class: Dick Moore, Jim Mooney, Mary Hawes, and Peggy Grace for helping to make a success of our Senior year. Miss Richmond, Mrs. Perry, Mr. Walsh, and Mr. Hill also deserve credit for giving so much of their time and help to the Class of 1964 ■

Seniors always seem to be the busiest, happiest people around.

CLASS OF 1965

CLASS ADVISORS: Mr. Samar, Miss Vars, Mrs. Karlin, Mr. Rubin. CLASS OFFICERS: Pat Rossi, treasurer; Sue Beers, vice-president; John Halbrooks, president; Amy Biagi, secretary.

□ The Class of 1965 in its second year on the Hill made much progress toward being a strongly united group. They showed that they would be more than simply the 100th class to come to the Hill through their academic achievements, athletic recognition, and enthusiastic organization of Pep Week in their hall, and their successful prom, "Rhapsody in White."

Efficiently guided by John Halbrooks, president; Sue Beers, vice-president; Amy Biagi, secretary; and Pat Rossi, treasurer, and aided by the willing help of Mrs. Kalin, Miss Vars, Mr. Rubin, and Mr. Samar, the class prepared for a much anticipated senior year ■

□ After gathering from two separate schools, the sophomores have formed a unified and enthusiastic class. They elected as their class officers, Ken George, president; Gordon Jones, vice-president; Cherly Dinneen, secretary; and Jim Broadley, treasurer. The Class of 1966 achieved high scholastic standing, produced fine athletes, and participated in all school clubs and activities. Guided by their class advisors, Mr. Allen, Mrs. Dow, Mr. Protheroe, and Mrs. Swett, they organized the class picnic and Sophomore Hop. The Class of 1966 looks forward to two more equally successful years on the Hill ■

CURRICULUM

ENGLISH

□ The English department, under Mr. Ferrett's direction, continued to provide the students with excellent courses in literature, drama, and writing. In the field of literature, drama, fiction, and poetry were studied, with emphasis on ideas and techniques of both modern and classical authors. Throughout the year students attempted to improve their own styles of writing in compositions and essays. The climax of the year's writing was a documented research paper due in the spring. As in the past, the advanced placement and accelerated courses were taught by Mr. Ferrett, Mr. Allen, and Miss Burke.

ment directed many school activities. Miss Duryea and a staff of students ran the bookstore, which provided an excellent browsing selection this year as well as books for most fields of study. Mr. Hamilton, who also taught a class in journalism, directed the Hilltopper staff in putting out the school newspaper. Miss Burke, Mr. Allen, and Mrs. Gould were the advisors of the Advocate staff. The school's literary publication, Even a Rag Like This, was organized and edited by Mr. Ferrett, Mr. Allen, Miss Burke, Mr. Hooker, and a staff of seniors. Mr. Hooker also conducted the Experimental Writing class; while Miss Tormey taught the reading classes, and Mr. Curtin taught speech class ■

MATHEMATICS

All eyes on Mr. Brock.

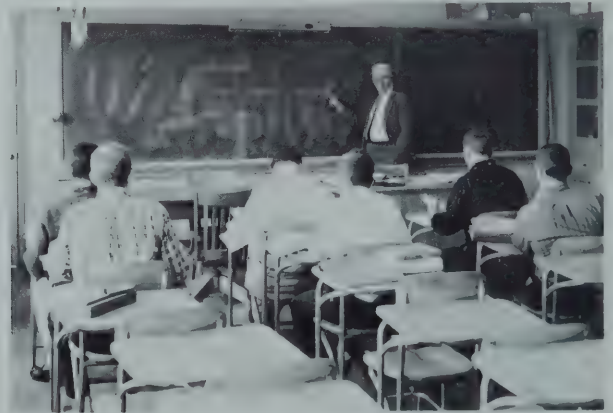

□ Three changes in personnel within the Mathematics Department greeted the students returning to the high school this year. Mr. Donald Brock, who left Pollard Junior High two years ago to teach in Newton, came back to Needham this year to teach at the high school. He was joined by Mr. Arnold Almquist, who previously taught mathematics in the Brockton public school system. Last year Mr. Almquist studied at the Academic Year Institute at Boston College. The Institute, which is sponsored by the National Science Foundation, admits a limited number of applicants from among teachers all over the United States each year. Mr. Karl West, a geometry teacher at Needham High, is attending the same Academic Year Institute during his sabbatical leave this year.

The Mathematics Department has instituted two major changes in course structure this year. Mr. Siegel and Mr. Hubbard are teaching an in-service course in SMSG geometry. Partly as a result of this course, there has been an increase in the number of classes studying modern math, both SMSG courses and traditional courses incorporating SMSG principles. Another course change has taken place in advanced mathematics, where a five-credit Math V course has replaced last year's two-credit course in probability and statistics. The Math V course is divided into a section embracing the old probability and statistics course and a section on matrix algebra.

Mr. Hubbard, the head of the department, is considering instituting a course in third year general mathematics to be an extension of the General Mathematics I and II courses now offered. Another projected change would incorporate one half year of algebra in the General Mathematics I course and an additional half year in General Mathematics II ■

Mathematics can be fun!

LANGUAGES

□ The Language Department was headed this year by Miss DeGuere. In addition to Miss DeGuere several new language teachers have joined the teaching staff. Miss Mary Jo Lazear is a student teacher under the direction of Mrs. Dow and is from Simmons College. Mrs. Dow has returned to Needham High School after one year's absence spent in studying at Harvard under a Hay Fellowship.

The language curriculum has been altered this year to accomodate the needs of the high school. Two French IV classes were held under the direction of Mr. Maletz. One of these classes was an advanced placement class and was composed of seven students who prepared during the year for the advanced placement exams given in the spring.

As in former years, instructors have attempted to familiarize their students not only with the written and spoken language of a country but also with its customs and the character of its people. Among the activities sponsored by the Language Department were the Roman Banquet and the language clubs ■

SOCIAL STUDIES

Mr. Holt's powder puffs.

□ The Social Studies Department, under the direction of Mr. Henry Hicks, had another successful year due to its varied program of activities. The Social Studies curriculum now includes Modern European History, World History, United States History, and Economics and Sociology. A new course entitled World Problems will be offered next year to Seniors. This class will meet three times a week and will analyze nine major areas of study. An addition to the department's teaching staff was Miss Pfuetze, who taught Economics and Sociology. The ACC United States History class, taught by Mr. Cullinane, was composed of twenty-six students separated into two sections. These students did an intense study of American History and also did much extensive reading and outside work to supplement their classroom instruction.

Many activities outside the classroom have been sponsored by the Social Studies Department this year. The International Affairs Society discussed the international situation on Friday afternoons with a full program of outside speakers. Eleven Needham High School students were sent to the East Coast Model United Nations in Mount Vernon, New York, as representatives of Norway. The Department also participated in the American Legion Oratorical Contest and the Massachusetts Student Government program.

The Social Studies Department believes that each student, as a member of society, has a certain responsibility to society. It is the aim of the department to help students prepare to accept this responsibility ■

What's so funny, Bob?

His Scheining lights.

SCIENCE

□ The Science Department, under the direction of Mr. Goldberg, continues to offer courses suited both to the needs of the student and to today's emphasis on the various fields of science. Accelerated courses have been especially successful this year, including an Advanced Placement class in Physics, taught by Dr. Kenneth Jones. The CHEM approach chemistry course begun this year will be combined with the Chem-Bond approach to form an accelerated Chemistry I course. A new Earth Science course has proved to be successful and will be continued next year.

The Department sponsored a number of extra-curricular activities this year; among them were the Science Quiz Team, the newly-organized Science Club, and an assembly. The annual Science Fair was also held, as well as a Symposium for those students who had written papers instead of submitting projects. The outstanding achievement of three Seniors, Ed Cottle, Peter Eloranta, and Larry Green, who were among sixteen finalists in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search, shows the high calibre of the Science Department and its students ■

COMMERCIAL

□ Under the direction of Mr. Golini, the new head of the commercial department, many students are being trained for careers in the fields of business and secretarial work. For students who are not interested in such a broad training, but who would like to be able to type well for college or personal use, the department provides courses in personal typing. This course includes instruction in basic typing skills and information necessary for letter writing and manuscript forms. More advanced courses are offered for those students who wish to learn bookkeeping, office practice, stenography, dictation, and transcription. Courses are also offered in Commercial Law and Salesmanship ■

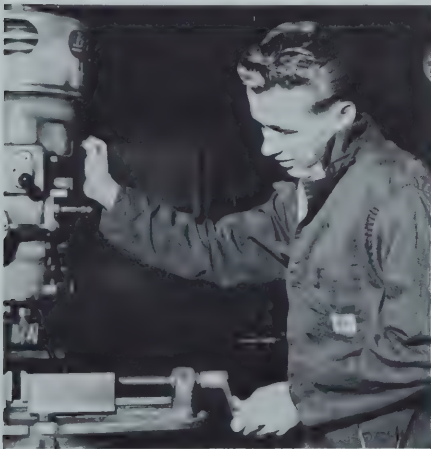

Miss Haskell gives helpful advice.

"I don't know what'll happen, but here goes."

□ The Industrial Arts Department, capably headed by Mr. Pelletier, continued to prepare students for careers as machinists, engineering technicians, draftsmen, engineers, and mechanics. Students became familiar with the industrial procedures while working in the drawing rooms and in the automotive, metal, and wood shops. They were taught the operation and maintenance of industrial tools and machines and received instruction in foundry and building. Students also helped with school projects, such as the staging of the Drama Club productions and of the Senior Play ■

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

PRACTICAL ARTS

□ The courses offered by the Practical Arts Department emphasize the enduring values of the home and the family. The Home and Family Living course offered to senior girls teaches them to understand themselves, their families, and the society in which they live. The girls study in detail the problems of prejudice, marriage, and particularly child care and development. The feeding, clothing, and education of the child from birth to adolescence is stressed, as well as the understanding of his personality and needs. Before Christmas the girls prepare a project in which they study for several weeks the behavior and personality of a child. This year the girls also have written books for children, which tests their knowledge of color and design. House management, including problems in budgeting, interior decoration, and nutrition, is another important area which the girls study. From their study of meal planning and nutrition, the senior girls prepare the Senior Breakfast, a popular tradition at Needham High School.

The Home Economics course offered to sophomores also involves meal planning and preparation of the school teas. The girls learn the fundamentals of cooking and sewing. The course follows the needs of the students, however; and the preparation and eating of a Thanksgiving dinner is one of the highlights of the year.

As a result of the knowledge gained in the Practical Arts courses, the girls are able to cope with the problems of daily living, an ability which is most important for the unity and strength of family and community life ■

Clean-up time.

EXPERIMENTAL WRITING

□ This year the experimental writing class met under the direction of Mr. Hooker. Students who elected this course attended classes three times a week for a period of one or two semesters.

The purpose of the experimental writing course is to give students a chance to practice creative writing outside of their English classes. Through this additional experience students are able to develop style, fluency, and imagination in their writing. They also have an opportunity to experiment with many forms of imaginative writing. This year the students have worked especially with short narrative and dramatic forms of writing ■

Hooker's helpful hints.

JOURNALISM

"So you see . . ."

□ The journalism class, which meets three times a week under the supervision of Mr. Hamilton, is a course designed to stimulate an interest in the Hilltopper and to teach its students the fundamentals of good newspaper writing. The course is basically a lab course, in that it gives the students actual writing experience, both for the Hilltopper and for the projects set up in class. The students taking the course help especially at the times when the paper is being published by filling in last minute details overlooked in earlier readings and by occasionally aiding in the writing of headlines ■

READING

□ The Developmental Reading course, a one semester elective, is designed to improve the skill and speed of students' reading. Mrs. Tormey directs the classes in such exercises as reading speed and comprehension tests, vocabulary improvement, and spelling. The ultimate goal of the course is to aid the students with the heavy reading load by teaching them to read, comprehend, and remember more material ■

Mrs. Tormey helps Bob.

GUIDANCE

"Your test scores indicate that . . ."

□ Mr. William F. Valdina, director of the Guidance Department, is assisted by Miss Dole, Mrs. Gordon, Mr. Affanato, and Dr. Forbes. Their major objectives are to aid the students during their high school years and help them with their future plans. The Guidance counselor assists each student in making out his yearly program, and in his senior year they advise him concerning college or work plans after high school. They gain a knowledge of every student by discussing with him his N.E.D.T. tests, National Merit Tests, Kuder Preference Tests, and the College Board examinations. The Department is ready for consultations with a student at any time during his high school years ■

ART

□ Under the capable direction of Mr. Rourke, the Art Department offers many opportunities for high school students to study art, either as a major or minor subject. The students first learn the fundamentals of art and then go on to more advanced forms such as oil painting and ceramics. They are encouraged to express themselves freely and to give their opinions on different works of art.

Mr. Rourke and Mr. Harris also teach a course in art and music appreciation. The history of art and music is taught so that the students of music may understand the creation of different works. He too is encouraged to give constructive criticism about any form of art being studied. The appreciation of art and music is a valuable means of enriching a student's educational background ■

DRIVER EDUCATION

□ The Driver Education program this past year was under the direction of Mr. Gerbino. The courses, which consisted of both classroom and on-the-road training were instructed on a full time basis by Mr. Gerbino, Mr. Cosgrove, and Mr. Cullinane, and on a part time basis by Mr. Muir and Mr. Peters of Newman Junior High School.

Since January 1, 1964, student drivers have been required to obtain a learner's permit from the Registry of Motor Vehicles before beginning on-the-road training. To receive this permit, students must pass a written exam given by the registry.

The Driver Education program at Needham High School is designated to emphasize proper attitudes on the roadways and basic training in the fundamentals of safe driving ■

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Weighting for the result.

Honor your corner.

□ Under the direction of Mrs. Freno, Miss White, Mr. Maloney, and Mr. De Fazio the Physical Education Department aims to contribute to the development of each student through participation in activities which are physically and mentally stimulating.

During the fall and spring physical conditioning is carried on in outdoor activities for as long as the weather permits. A physical fitness testing program is also conducted, which consists of a national test to determine the physical fitness of each student and his resulting program needs. Winter brings the annual co-educational square dancing, as well as apparatus work, stunts, tumbling, and basketball. In the spring softball, tennis, baseball, and golf are the major activities ■

EXCHANGE STUDENT

□ This year the Exchange Club sponsored a foreign student from Paris, France, Sylvia Semory. Sylvia made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harris and their three children. Because of her friendliness and sincerity Sylvia soon lost her title of "the exchange student" and became a regular member of the class of 1965. We will all remember Sylvia's cheerfulness, and her eagerness to learn more about the American people and the English language. She has added much to the high school during the year, especially through her participation in the French Club and in the annual Pops concert.

When Sylvia returns to Paris and finishes her basic education, she plans to become an interpreter for a large firm. We know that Sylvia's lively personality, her ambition, and her friendliness will make her a success in any future that she plans ■

The advisors, editors, and fifty staff members were busy planning and assembling the yearbook from the middle of the summer, when the new staff took over the supplement. Bigger than ever before, the staff included representatives from all three classes. From the first weeks of school, Advocate members could be seen hurrying about the school doing club, senior, and teacher write-ups, selling Advocates, and collecting money for advertisements and sponsors. Photographers were seen frequently taking candid, clubs, and activities pictures to record the unforgettable memories of 1964 ■

□ The Student Council completed another year of student government under the leadership of Douglas Farmer, President; Debby Scull, Vice-President; Francie Fernald, Secretary; and Kathy Buckley, Treasurer. The Council advisors this year were Mr. Schien and Miss Alvord.

Each year the Student Council sponsors or partakes in several activities for the benefit of the high school and the students. This year they have sponsored the annual Officers' Affair, the sale of Pep pins, the Booster Drive, and the maintenance of the bulletin board. The Student Council also was chosen to conduct a discussion group on the dress code at the Eastern Massachusetts Division of Student Councils. In addition to these activities the Student Council sponsored several assemblies and organized the high school's annual Bermuda Day.

Because of the complaint of lack of publicity on the part of the Student Council, the Publicity Committee had as its special project the improvement of communication between the Council and the student body. As a solution to the problem the committee issued a monthly report posted in all homerooms and on the bulletin board outside the office. The report covered the important business transacted during the preceding month.

The Student Council is organized and conducted similarly to a Town Meeting. All meetings are conducted by a presiding official, and all motions must be passed by a three-fourths majority. Anyone who wishes to petition the Student Council for action on a certain measure may do so, for one of the purposes of the Student Council is to work with the administration in providing a student's viewpoint on controversial subjects ■

BAND

□ The Needham High School Band, directed by Mr. Fred Harris, is designed to promote musical interest and to support musical activities. This year the Band's 100 members were split into two rehearsal periods, fifth and sixth period. The band combined to play for assemblies, pep rallies, football games, the pops Concert, and for the exchange concerts with Rochester, New York.

New life was added to the band this year by Mr. Lewis Norcott, a graduate of the Boston University School of Music, who joined Mr. Harris in directing the band. Mr. Norcott arranged the music for a complete half-time show, wrote several fanfares, and arranged a medley of television themes for the annual Pops Concert, "Pops and Jazz." ■

SWING BAND

□ The Swing Band is an experienced group of selected musicians from the high school band. Led by Mr. Harris and Mr. Norcott, the members meet every Wednesday evening to rehearse for their many engagements, which include high school dances, college dances, and dancing school parties. The band plays many of the great numbers of the "big band era" of Glenn Miller. Twists, modern arrangements, and Latin American music are also included in the band's varied library. The Swing Band offers additional experience in showmanship and musical ability in the school of jazz ■

Row 1: G. Trecartin, B. Golding, A. Wellington, J. Sutro, M. Brown, V. Cook, A. Carr, L. Spence. Row 2: Mr. Heald, S. Nelson, R. Benham, J. Oliver, B. Shaw, S. Murphy, A. Cotter,

C. Sell, G. Davidson, L. Mutzfeld. Row 3: C. Rardin, S. Bulren, V. Haraden, G. Gifford, J. Cogshall, C. Coumans, S. Jackson, B. Reynolds, J. O'Neill.

□ The Girls' Glee Club, which meets every Monday organization period in the auditorium, has maintained the excellence for which this group has been well known in the past. Under the exacting direction of Mr. Heald, the group has been made into a working unit, combining its separate parts into a skilled harmonic effect. Persistent striving for perfection on the part of its members has been readily evident from the successful performances which the group has given at assemblies ■

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Music Men

□ The Boys' Glee Club, which is directed by Mr. Heald, has provided a great deal of fine entertainment for audiences at assemblies and other school functions. Meeting during organization periods on Tuesdays and Fridays, the club has added a wide variety of pieces to its standard repertoire, ranging from college songs and the popular "Mood Indigo" to Beethoven's "The Heavens Resound." Through its excellent performances the Boys' Glee Club has become an integral part of Needham High's musical activities ■

CHORALEERS

Row 1: C. Smith, K. Stein, V. Cook, R. Benham, J. Oliver, M. Scowcroft, J. Weihe, M. Stein, N. Sargent, B. Clement, G. Trecartin, Mrs. Enright. Row 2: E. Dutton, A. Carr, D. Randolph, J. Anderson, K. Ringer, M. Brown,

□ This year the Choraleers have worked under the direction of Mrs. Enright, who has taken the place of Mr. Heald. The Choraleers is a group of singers consisting of approximately thirty-six girls and eight alternates. These girls have gained a high reputation by performing for various schools and organizations throughout the area. The Choraleers also have enjoyed singing for Needham High School assemblies. Members of the Choraleers also participated in a Senior Sextet, a Mixed Chorus, and the Southeastern and All State Choruses ■

□ Under the capable and enthusiastic direction of Mr. Norcott, the members of the Needham High School Orchestra met twice a week for practice. Comprised of thirty musicians, the orchestra was able to handle various kinds of music well. This year, however, the emphasis was placed upon standard orchestra pieces which would be a challenge to the members. The orchestra, in addition to practicing for the enjoyment and improvement of its members, prepared at its bi-weekly rehearsals for performances at assemblies and for an exchange concert ■

BOOKSTORE

□ The bookstore is run under the direction of Miss Duryea, and Marie Taylor and Sheila Tracey served as this year's co-chairmen. This year the bookstore has the largest staff in its history; and a browsing section has been added with its stock kept in a special case. The bookstore supplies required texts for class work as well as paperbacks for research papers. The profits of the bookstore go toward the support of the high school publications: The Rag, the Hilltopper, and Advocate ■

□ The Library Club, under the direction of Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Wagner, is a school service club made up of eighty-five students who assist in maintaining the library. Each student works two periods a week or before and after school, and also attends the Tuesday meetings. The members of the club are trained in library desk routines; they also check magazines, label reserves, and shelve the books.

Heading the club this year are Jean Benedict as President; Virginia Washburn, Vice President; Carol Munstedt, Secretary; Penny Schneider, Treasurer; Dale Moses and Pam Meade, Senior Representatives; and Rachel Ridgeway, Junior Representative ■

EVEN A RAG LIKE THIS

Row 1: G. Rowe, Mr. Hooker, Miss Burke, Mr. Allen, L. Morgan. Row 2: L. Shapiro, M. Slavin, D. Scull, C. Gere, G. McIntosh, P. Weller, K. Stein, V. Cook, D. Gleason, M. Taylor, J. Bloom.

□ The Rag, Needham High School's literary book, contains essays, poetry, short stories, critical essays and reviews, and full length documented papers. The writing chosen for the book represents the highest quality work from all groups of students in the school. The Rag not only affords pleasurable reading for the student but also helps him in writing English themes, since it gives examples of the correct way to write each form.

Since the first year of its publication, the focus of the Rag has gradually changed. Now it contains more imaginative writing, especially poetry. The editors have discovered that the writing improves each year. Also, students have taken over more of the work, such as proof-reading, typing, and pasting. This year the faculty head of the Rag was Mr. Allen; the faculty editors were Mr. Ferrett, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Hooker, and Miss Burke. They were assisted by a staff of juniors and seniors, headed by Larry Green ■

HILLTOPPER

"I'd like four copies."

□ The Hilltopper, under the supervision of Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Longmaid, continued to provide readers with academic, athletic, and social events of interest around the school. The editor-in-chief, Gary Tibbetts, worked with his staff members to improve the newspaper, and this year they introduced several new concepts. For the first time, the Hilltopper staff worked on the first issue during the summer and was able to put out an early issue during the first few weeks of school. The staff, assisted by the journalism classes, also tried to develop an editorial policy in its six issues. Through these improvements the staff succeeded in making this year's Hilltopper one of the best in the six year history of the newspaper ■

□ The Girls' Leaders Club showed its ability this year by assisting the gym instructors during the gym periods. The club met every Monday organization period in two groups under the direction of Mrs. Freno and Miss White. The girls learned the rules and regulations of many games and sports which could be used by those who are interested in a career in physical education. The girls helped Mrs. Freno and Miss White by officiating in games, administering physical fitness tests, and spotting and demonstrating on the apparatus ■

A Leader watching Art on the horse.

□ This year the Boys' Leaders Club continued to demonstrate its ability to assist the gym instructors during gym classes. The boys met during organization period on Tuesdays and were trained to work with Mr. Maloney and Mr. DeFazio. They assisted both in organizing members of the classes and in demonstrating new activities for the students. The boys were chosen for their athletic ability and leadership qualities, and the club was composed of seniors, juniors, and sophomores. Their work has made them a valuable part of the physical education program ■

GIRLS' APPARATUS CLUB

□ The Girls' Apparatus Club, this year under the direction of Miss White, has become increasingly more popular with girls of all classes. So many girls wanted to participate that the club met every period Friday, as was also the case last year. The club provides a place where girls interested in apparatus work may have more personal, detailed instruction. They also have time to practice more difficult skills than those included in the regular apparatus program. The trampoline, as always, was a favorite; and free exercise, vaulting, and working on the uneven parallel bars have become popular as well ■

BOYS' APPARATUS CLUB

□ Almost forty boys turned out this year for the Boys' Apparatus Club, guided, as in previous years, by Mr. Maloney and Mr. DeFazio. The club met every Friday organization period in the Boys' Gym.

The Apparatus Club has been used by many boys as a training ground for both the Gymnastics Team and the Wrestling Team. The club has provided these boys with an excellent opportunity to develop the speed and agility required in both sports. Most of the members this year, however, were boys who simply enjoyed working out for pleasure on the parallel bars, the trampoline, the tumbling mats, and other pieces of apparatus ■

Row 1: L. Saylor, S. Murphy, S. Richardson, B. VanSickle, S. Ellis, G. Davidson. Row 2: R. Bennett, G. Gifford, J. Murphy, S. Semory, L. Jenkins, B. Rouane. Row 3: Mr. Maletz, P. Miles, B. Abbott, C. Dandor, J. Oakman, J. Dandor, K. Taggart, J. Lakko, Mrs. Dow.

□ The French Club is designed to emphasize France rather than the French language. Through the faculty supervisors, Mr. Maletz and Mrs. Dow, as well as through guest speakers, club members become familiar with the everyday life of the French people, young students in particular. French attitudes towards people and towards political affairs were discussed, and during the year French Club members accumulated a store of background information to supplement their French classes.

Meetings were held approximately every three weeks. During the meetings members played word games in French, heard college students speak on France, and listened to popular songs of the country. Special projects and field trips were planned, among them a meal in a French restaurant, seeing a French movie, and studying the art and artists of France at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

This past year the French Club was particularly fortunate to have among its members our French exchange student, Sylvia Semory. The members are grateful to Sylvia for the willingness and enthusiasm with which she explained social customs and social life of her native land.

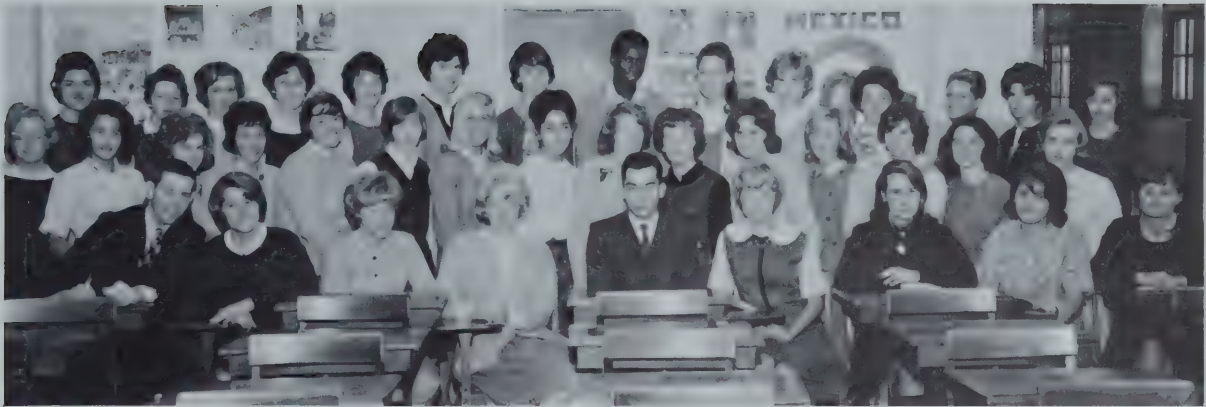

Officers of the French Club this year were: Janet Murphy, President; Gail Gifford, Vice-President; Sylvia Semory, Secretary; and Karen Laing, Treasurer ■

□ This year the Junior Classical League had a membership of one hundred and sixty Latin scholars. Eighty-three new members were initiated in the traditional candle-light ceremony in December. All of the members elected officers according to Roman nomenclature: Consuls, Vivian Cook and Karen Mrocza; Scribe, Sandra Fowle; and Quaestor, Joe Cascio.

The League met every month under the guidance of Mr. Muir and has as its aim the promotion of interest in and the advancement of Latin. During the meetings skits concerning Roman life were presented, including the Saturnalia celebration at Christmas. In April the League sent delegates to the Massachusetts Federation of Junior Classical Leagues. The climax of the club's activities was the traditional Roman Banquet, where Latin students enjoyed a typically Roman meal of spaghetti and ice cream ■

□ The Spanish Club, under the direction of Miss Margaret C. Kenney, was formed to encourage the study of Spanish and for the enjoyment of those interested in the language. The officers: Gene Cavallero, President; Leslie Chambers, Vice-President; Mary Brauer, Secretary; Diane Canaris, Treasurer; and Joan Kluwer, Scribe, have planned trips to various museums in the Boston area. Members of the club also saw a stage show entitled "Ballet Folklorico of Mexico." ■

SLAVIC CLUB

□ The Slavic Club was formed last year under the direction of Mrs. Valentine to promote interest in Slavic cultures. Open to any Russian student and to all those interested in Russia and her satellites, the club met on the second Wednesday of each month and presented many interesting programs. They were able to see a Russian movie and to engage several speakers. The members of the club tried to take advantage of the opportunities to see Russian ballet and attend other activities to enrich their understanding of Slavic culture ■

ART CLUB

Putting finishing touches on a still-life.

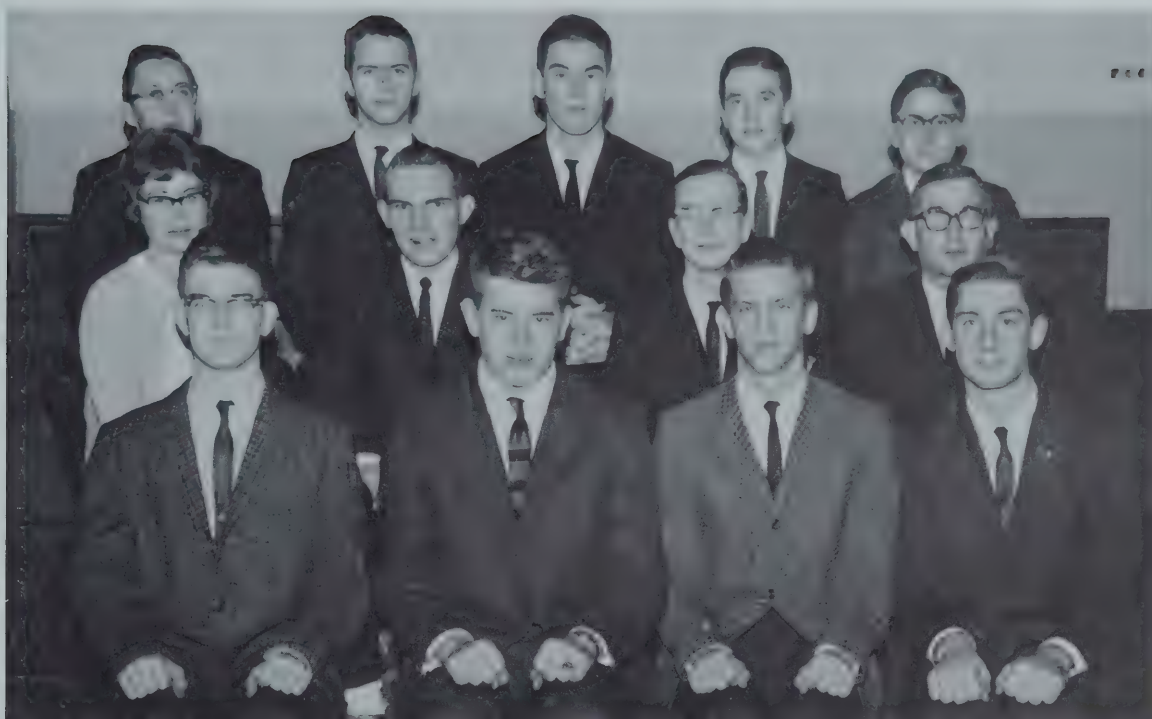

□ The Art Club is offered especially to those students who cannot fit a regular Art class into their schedules. Under the direction of Mr. Enos, the students either work on an art portfolio or do general arts and crafts work. The Club is becoming increasingly more popular among the students, and they continue to do fine work in all fields of arts and crafts ■

SCIENCE CLUB

Row 1: P. Weller, W. Gindra, J. Gischen, J. Pozgay. Row 2: Miss Collins, B. Jacobson, R. Ten Eyck, Mr. Goldberg. Row 3: Mr. Kochanek, J. Gotthardt, M. Hansen, D. Tracey, D. Gleason.

□ Within the past school year a group of interested students formed the Needham High School Science Club. The purpose of the club is to provide an opportunity for any interested students to pursue scientific interests beyond the classroom.

During the first semester the club was organized. The constitution was drafted, ratified by the club, and submitted to the Student Council for its approval. Once the club was officially recognized, the club activities were planned; and officers for the year were elected: President, Jeff Gishen; Vice-President, Peter Weller; Secretary, Jerome Pozgay; and Treasurer, Bill Gindra.

During the second semester distinguished guest speakers from local universities and industries addressed the club. Also, some of the members began work on club-sponsored projects. The first year was quite successful.

In future years the Science Club hopes to expand both its membership and activities. Beginning next year the club will arrange and sponsor the Needham High School Science Quiz Team. The Science Club promises to become a major educational extra-curricular activity ■

Row 1: A. Jones, M. Hutt, E. Valentine, S. Fern, J. King, D. Bilodeau, L. Spence. Row 2: P. Ohanian, B. Hunt, S. Monacelli, M. Maloney, S. Kadetsky, P. Davenport, C. Stone, P. Jaffe, C. Craven, M. Tipton, B. Hawes, A. Loring, M. Willox, K. Longmaid, M. Phelps.

□ Under the direction of Miss White, the Modern Dance Club has had another successful year. Meeting organization periods on Tuesday, the members create interpretive movements to music-modern, classical, semiclassical, show music, jazz, or drums. By using original choreography in their routines, the girls have gained a greater appreciation of music, and in perfecting these routines they have achieved both grace and poise. By the end of the year the girls had discovered that dance, just as music, literature, or art, can be an effective means of self expression ■

SKI CLUB

□ The Ski Club continues to be a popular activity for students on the Hill. The Club traveled to several ski lodges this year, among them Mount Sunapee in New Hampshire and Mount Snow in Vermont.

With over seventy enthusiastic participants, the Ski Club strives for both safety and mastery of the fundamentals of skiing. The members demonstrate varying degrees of skill, but the size of the Club shows it to be one of the most successful organizations in the school ■

□ The Drama Club was formed this year under the direction and guidance of Mr. Holt and Mrs. Blank. An executive board made up of David Broderick, Elaine Sjoquist, Mary Howe, Suzanne Bixby, and Stephen Barba functioned as an organizing force. Monthly meetings were held at which suitable programs were presented, one act plays produced, and movies and plays attended by the enthusiastic group. With continued support the Drama Club can expand its scope and function to become one of the major organizations of Needham High School ■

□ The Caduceus Club was formed five years ago under the supervision of Miss Callan and Mrs. Haines. Since its formation the club has acquired a name and a membership of over sixty. Deriving its name from the medical symbol of the Caduceus, the Caduceus Club is a medical careers organization. Its aim is to acquaint students with all phases of medicine. Meeting twice each month, the students devote one meeting to business and the second to a program. Programs consist of speakers, films, panel discussions, and tours of medical centers. Members of the Caduceus Club aid Mrs. Haines in her office and some have been serving as volunteer workers at the Veterans Hospital in Boston ■

FUTURE TEACHERS

Row 1: R. Ten Eycke, S. Murphy, J. Oliver, J. Rowley, P. Meade, J. Benedict, C. Munstedt, S. Yueh. Row 2: Mr. Holt, H. Dairs, B. Golding, C. Watson, E. Brooks,

C. Holbrook, K. Dandor, P. Schneider, R. Ridgway, R. Sansevero, M. Hawes, M. Taylor.

□ The Future Teachers of America Club is composed of those students who are interested in the career of teaching. Through club activities they learn more about education skills. The members hope to gain practical experience by observing and participating in local elementary school classes. During the year several guest speakers were invited to discuss teaching, teaching opportunities, British education, and other topics related to the increasingly important field of education.

Officers of the club were Pam Meade, President; Jean Benedict, Vice-President; Jayne Oliver, Secretary; and Judy Rowley, Treasurer. Faculty advisor to the club was Mr. Holt ■

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

□ The Amateur Radio Club, under the auspices of Mr. Pelletier, has had an extremely active year. The club attempts to stimulate the members' interest in the theory and practice of amateur radio operation, and most of the members have either obtained their Federal Communications Commission Band or are presently working for them. The members are afforded every opportunity to obtain actual on-the-air experience. Transmitting and receiving equipment is provided and is available to the members before and after school or during any of their study periods. Numerous field trips have been taken, and members of the club have placed highly in several international contests ■

AUDIO VISUAL CLUB

Row 1: S. Defina, M. Hawes, L. Macquarrie, J. Merino, H. Manning. Row 2: J. Goodfellow, J. Tipton, T. Herman, Mr. Holt, F. Brack, A. Arnold, H. Appel.

□ The Audio-Visual Club, under the supervision of Mr. Ashley Holt, is an important service organization of the school. The club is made up of approximately thirty students who are responsible for setting up and operating all the movie projectors used daily in various classes. The officers elected this year are President, Leigh Macquarrie, and Vice President, Larry Osborne. In addition to ordering and showing educational films, the club is in charge of tape recorders, record players, lighting, and all other audio-visual equipment used in the classrooms, assemblies, and dances ■

INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS STUDY GROUP

□ The International Affairs Study Group, consisting of students who are interested in domestic and foreign affairs and those who wish to learn more about international affairs, meets weekly under the supervision of Mr. Hicks and Mr. Rubin for informal discussion of topics of interest and to hear various distinguished lecturers. In addition to the regular meetings, the group sent a delegation of eleven to the Seventh Annual East Coast Model United Nations Conference held in April at Mount Vernon, New York. In past years the group has represented Burma and Austria, and this year represented Norway, an important Scandinavian country which plays a key role in the United Nations. The first semester officers are: Jim Mooney, President; Meg Weekes, Secretary; and Bill Gindra, Treasurer. The East Coast Model United Nations Conference as well as the regular club activities provided valuable experience for the enrichment of the members ■

□ This year saw the formation of a new club on the hill, the Varsity Club. Composed of boys who have earned their Varsity letters, the club sponsored the first alumni dance at the high school during Christmas. Although the club is a new one, interest in it has been very strong; and it promises to become a popular and successful activity in Needham High.

Officers of the Varsity Club were: Phil Robey, Jim Cruickshank, and Steve Brown ■

Among the highlights of the concert were Mr. Norcott and his medley of familiar T.V. Tunes, Sylvia Semory, the Swing Band, the Senior Sextet, the folksinging duet, the Jazz Combo, and the Never-be-Four Quartet. Faculty, students, families, and friends all enjoyed a pleasant night at the N.H.S. Pops ■

□ This year the senior class again presented a comedy, You Can't Take It With You, by George S. Kaufmann and Moss Hart. Under the excellent direction of Mrs. Stanley R. Tippet, the cast effectively portrayed the antics of the zany Sycamore family and the wealthy and proper Kirbys. The Sycamores, in their attempts to impress the Kirbys and bring about the marriage of Alice Sycamore and Tony Kirby, succeed only in blowing up a cellar of fireworks, but not before the Kirbys have met more members of the household: Mr. DePinna in his toga; the inebriated actress, Gay Wellington; and Mr. Kolenkov, the Russian ballet teacher who is anxious to wrestle with Mr. Kirby. Despite a series of catastrophies, Alice and Tony are finally brought together; and the play closes with the entrance of the Grand Duchess Olga Katrina, another Sycamore protege, who is making the blintzes for dinner. Other high points of the evening occur with Donald and Rheba, played by Peter Weller and Debby Scull, and with Ed and his glockenspiel, both played by Ken Patton ■

□ The Needham High Rockets had a tremendously successful season this year, finishing second in the Bay State League. The team had a fine record of five wins and two losses, one being to non-league Hingham, and two ties. Great determination to win and hours of practice were evident in each of the boys' performances during the season. The only league loss the team suffered was to Milton, after the game had been postponed several times. Credit should be given to all the members of the team and especially to Coach Maloney and to co-captains Paul Robey and Doug Farmer ■

□ Under the fine direction of Coach Fred Preston, the soccer team was able to take second place in the Bay State League. The boys had a slow start, losing to Braintree and tying both Milton and Wellesley one to one; but they had a strong finish. Although the first half of the season was unsuccessful for the team, it gave the members the experience they needed. The boys finished the season by beating Milton three to one and Wellesley two to one. The only team that proved to be unbeatable was the league winning Braintree team.

This year's games were among the hardest fought that Needham has played. Credit is due to the seniors of the team, who packed the scoring punch, and especially to captain Phil Coburn. The team voted to have co-captains next year and elected Phil Atwood and Frank Brown to the positions ■

□ Although the cross-country team had only two returning lettermen this year, the team logged up an undefeated season to end up on top of the Bay State League. Led by captain, Don Humphrey and coached by Mr. Herlihy, the team continued to show the excellence through which it has allowed only one defeat in the last six years of competition. The team consolidated its position at the head of the league by winning the Bay State Conference Meet with 46 points. Captain Humphrey helped to make a superior season outstanding by breaking the course records at Needham, Walpole, Milton, Framingham North, and Framingham South.

With four letterman returning next year, we can expect another excellent season in the fall of 1964 ■

□ The Varsity Basketball team completed a successful season with a record of twelve wins out of the eighteen games played. Under the direction of Coach Parmigiane and captained by Steve Hanson, the team demonstrated a high degree of skill gained in long practice sessions. The team also showed up well in the Eastern Massachusetts Tournament; despite a defeat by Concord-Carlisle with a score of 70-41, Needham conquered St. Mary's of Cambridge by a score of 52-43. The proficiency of the juniors on the team indicates a good season next year ■ enzo, D. George, M. Miller, B. Rogers, R. Paffenbarger, P. DeFazio.

□ As in the past, the varsity wrestling team had a good season with a split of five wins and five losses with one tie. Co-captains Cliff Holbrook and Dave Wade, and Coach DeFazio led the team of seventeen, only four of which were seniors. This promises an excellent team next year because of the strong backing of the underclassmen. Needham was well represented at the New England Tournament, where Dave Wade and Mike Derenzo took fourth in their respective weight classes, and Peter DeFazio took fifth in his weight class; and at the State Tournament, Wade took a second; DeFazio and Miller, thirds; and Holbrook and Derenzo, fourths ■

□ The varsity gymnastics team completed an excellent season with nine wins and only three losses. Coach Aronson and Steve Brown, captain, led the team through meets with other Bay State League high schools as well as competitions with the U. of Mass. and Springfield College freshmen.

At the Bay State League competitions, the team took third place; and the team was invited to participate in the Massachusetts High School Team Championship Meet with the honor of being one of the six best teams in the state. The team owes its success not only to the individual skills of the members, but to the long hours of practice, excellent leadership and guidance, and a strong team spirit, all qualities of a solid, winning team ■

□ The varsity hockey team upheld its high reputation by completing another excellent season. The final record stood at eight wins, five losses, and one tied game, proof of a strong and hard-working team. Under the fine coaching of Mr. Chambers, the team was captained by Jim Cruickshank. Not only did the varsity teams function well as a unit, but individual players also earned honors in the Bay State League, where Walter Hasenfus was the second highest scorer in the league. With strong players returning and coming up from the junior varsity team, a good season is predicted for next winter ■

□ For the third year in a row, coach Herlihy's indoor track team was severely hampered by lack of numbers. Fourteen competitors represented the team at its meet with Natick High School, which mustered two busloads of athletes for its meet with Needham. Paced by star distance runner, Don Humphrey, high scorer, Dick Rosenburg, and co-captains Ed Cottle and Fred Moore, the team was able to win its first victory in three years. Unfortunately the team's victory over Watertown was the only one of the season. The team showed more strength at the State Meet, where Don Humphrey placed first in the two-mile and Bob Kokko tied for fifth in the high jump. Next year's co-captains, Rus Provost and Dick Rosenburg will have a rough season ahead of them unless more boys will go out for the team next year ■

□ Led by co-captains Sally Burke and Sally Tarr, the Girls' Field Hockey Team enjoyed their first successful season in several years. The competent coaching of Miss White and the assistance of managers Sheila Robinson and Gail Robbins contributed to the team's success. The varsity team beat six of its opponents without yielding a goal. Each of the two games lost by the varsity were one-point contests, and the ninth game played resulted in a 1-1 tie with Wellesley. The Junior Varsity was equally as successful in its contests. The team won six out of eight games played without yielding a single goal to their opponents. They lost only one game to Wellesley and tied their game with Walpole, 1-1. The girls are optimistic concerning the future because of the apparent strength of the Junior Varsity Team ■

Go Needham!

□ The varsity girls' basketball team had a tremendous season this year, being undefeated in Bay State competition. The team was coached by Mrs. Freno, and captained by Dale Moses and Penny Schneider. Because of their skill, the team played in the New England Invitational Tournament at Canton, where they reached the semi-finals and were defeated by the first place team. The team can owe its success to fine individual skill, as well as a strong, fighting team spirit.

Also worthy of mention is the twin success of the varsity and J.V. teams, both of whom won the Bay State League championships ■

"Quality builds confidence"

The William Carter Company, nationally-known manufacturer of knit underwear and sleepwear for infants, children, men and women, operates seven modern plants. Pictured above is the Company's Home Office in Needham Heights, Mass. The manufacturing plants are located in Springfield, Mass.; Barnesville, Thomaston and Forsyth, Georgia; Senatobia, Mississippi; and a new mill opened this year in Centreville, Mississippi. From its modest beginning in 1865, the firm still steadfastly adheres to the high ideals of its founder, William Carter, who said, "Quality builds confidence, quality endures, quality pays."

Carter's

We blueprint the basic structure for the insurance of our clients and build their protection on a sound foundation. Only by a complete survey of needs, followed by intelligent counsel, can a proper insurance program be constructed.

Without obligation on your part, we would be happy to act as your insurance architects.
Please call us at any time.

An Invitation to June Graduates

When you start working and receive your first salary, we invite you to come in and open a Savings Account.
Then, make it a habit to save something each pay day.
Building a healthy bank balance will give you a wonderful feeling and prove that you have what it takes to get ahead financially.
We'll welcome you as a depositor.
